The Story Behind the May You Know Joy Brand

As I embarked on a harrowing journey to recover from my struggle with addiction some 8+ years ago now, I realized how much energy I'd put into numbing and self-destruction. I wondered what I could do & what kind of life I could create if I put that energy into creating a life of meaning and joy?

In the early days, it was small steps. I chose beautiful tools and practices that helped me to re-align and focus on how I wanted to show up.

Here we are. Today, we have a beautiful & inspiring product line that spans the globe. Each product is created to support us on this incredible journey, inspiring our most intentional living and connecting us with our greatest joy.

I know that the simple actions we take every day can have a significant and cumulative impact on our mindset, our overall well-being and the world around us. I aspire to create beautiful tools to help people build inspiring, meaningful & sustainable intention setting practices.

"INTENTIONAL DAYS CREATE A LIFE ON PURPOSE"

I appreciate your consideration of our product line and would welcome the opportunity to bring greater joy and intention to your environment and your community!

Wishing you joy & great adventures,

Adrienne
